SATURDAY, MARCH 16, 1912

Kingston has a broken crew, which held a progressive canoe tournament a few days ago. A game of "bluff" would have been more in keeping.

A "Lloyd George Must Go" league has been formed in England. The chancellor has been "going some" for a long time. The leaguers will also have to "go" if they obstruct any of the forefront of public life.

In the morning edition of the Bulletin on Friday it was erroneously reported that the resolutions were rejected by the convention of the Temperance and Moral Reform league, on the ground that they were partisan in character. The resolutions were not rejected. They were, however, subjected to severe criticism as originally presented, and were materially amended before being passed.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster told a Toronto audience that the cost of living "must come down." If refusing to let the farmer sell his products outside Canada could make living cheap in Canada there would be no occasion for Mr. Foster to refer to the high cost of living. Suppose we tried the other tack for a while, accepted tariff reductions when and whenever offered on farm produce, and thus encouraged the farmer to go into business on a large scale. The result could not be worse for the townsman than the results of restriction are seen to be. Another reason to think that a "boom" in farming would follow what would "average down" the cost of living in the cities.

The Calgary Herald is trying to stir up hostility toward the Dominion Government with the cry that the Government's railway policy is for the benefit of the northern portion of the Province only. The cry is not true, it almost certainly is false. The truth as circumstances permit. But supposing it were true, the Herald would have no proper kick coming. Did not the friends of the Herald stand up in the Legislature day after day and declare that rival companies should not be encouraged to build lines into the territory "tributary" to the C.P.R. system; that this territory should be considered a kind of preserve for the exploitation of that company and left to depend upon that company for its railway facilities? If any place in Alberta is tributary to the C.P.R., it surely is the city of Calgary, the centre of the company's operations for the whole Province. If any place would receive the full "benefits" of the railway policy propounded by the Herald's friends, and loyally endorsed by the Herald, it would be the city of Calgary. What complaint, then, would the Herald and its friend have if their proposal were adopted, and the city of Calgary left to depend for railway facilities and railway development upon the enterprise and undoubted resources of the Canadian Pacific Railway company? It has not been so left and nobody has proposed that it should be so left except the Herald and its friends in the Legislature. Yet it is from this quarter that protest now comes against the alleged application of the railway policy to the city of Calgary. The Herald is to be understood as approving of C.P.R. monopoly as applied to all other points, but as objecting strenuously to C.P.R. monopoly as applied to the city of Calgary.

A FALLING OUT, OR ONLY A BLUFF?

Either the allies have fallen out or they are pretending to have done so. Mr. Bourassa professes to be displeased with the Manitoba boundary bill, and is calling upon his followers for more militant action in pressing their aims into effect.

As a starting point, Mr. Bourassa admits that there has been an alliance between himself and Mr. Bowser, and that from the alliance he hoped to secure the carrying out of Nationalist views and aims in relation to the Manitoba school question as he has in relation to the navy. He professes to have been disappointed in this matter, however, and to be now convinced that the re-establishment of separate schools in Manitoba can be better brought about by a movement not specifically under the auspices of either party but bringing pressure to bear upon both.

If this disaffection of Mr. Bourassa is real, it illustrates very well the extreme nature of his views and ambitions. He is not satisfied with half-way measures or with succeeding in half his undertakings. He must have everything. Mr. Bourassa has really no cause to be dissatisfied with the Government. He has his way in the matter of the navy. And in the matter of Manitoba schools he has the word of Mr. Bourassa and Mr. Monk that before submitting the Manitoba bill, he had the assurance of Premier Roblin that he would be willing to do something for the minority in that Province along the line wanted by Mr. Bourassa. If it is really thinking of breaking away from the Government he is most unreasonable.

Mr. Bowser has to think not only of what Mr. Bourassa wants but of how to keep himself in power. He remembers that a previous Government of his party went out of power in trying to impose upon the people of Manitoba a school system that they did not want and had abolished. Whether or not the minority in that Province have rights that should be restored to them, it is a matter with which the Dominion Government cannot safely deal even supposing it to have the power and the right to do so. As head of his party Mr. Bowser is bound to avoid extreme measures which might bring his Government into defeat, and there is every reason to suppose that it was in remembrance of what happened to Tupper and in fear that the same could happen to himself that he held off from embodying in the Manitoba bill the clause which the Nationalist Ministers wanted in effect.

It is to be noted, too, that the Nationalist members of the cabinet are still in their places. They have not resigned and have no apparent notion of doing so. The Nationalist members of Parliament, too, continue to support the Nationalist ministers faithfully. Messrs. Monk and Pelletier have made it plain that in remaining in the cabinet they have not renounced to be Nationalists, nor given up their hope and intention of gaining the point about which Mr. Bourassa expresses concern. A explained in Mr. Pelletier's paper they stated thinking they could better promote Nationalist aims from within than without. They are not less Nationalists, and they are not less determined in pressing the Nationalist propaganda, than Mr. Bourassa. They differ from him in methods, not in object. He, it seems, would have them resign and leave the Government—and thus lose the chance of promoting Nationalist ideas in the Government's councils and by the Government's actions. They think that the common error of the latter attained by staying in a position where they can influence the councils of the Government. And in that they have decidedly the better of the supposed difference with Mr. Bourassa.

All this on the supposition that Mr. Bourassa is really thinking of breaking his forces from those of the Government and acting independent hereafter for the promotion of his principles. This, however, there is room to doubt. That Mr. Bowser is allowed to boss the Government in the matter, he should feel for the moment aggrieved because his wishes were not granted in the Manitoba case is natural. After being master of the situation one does not like to have his will thwarted in what he deems an important matter. But that the break with anything but temporary there is no reason to suppose. However, Mr. Bourassa may feel for the moment, he must come to realize that the Government have dealt with him most generously—for more generously than with the imperialistic wing who would have made short work of him and his plans. If the Premier in deference to the disaffection which was becoming apparent in the Imperialistic wing, thought it necessary as a party expedient to give out that he had treated Mr. Bourassa coolly, that is not a thing to permanently divide the Nationalist chief and his friends from the Government. The supposed disaffection of Mr. Bourassa may indeed be nothing more than a pretended disaffection—intended to bring back the Imperialists to the support of the Premier—and to thus make them again the servants and tools of the policy Mr. Bowser represents. Whether pretended or real, the disaffection will probably disappear before the election time comes round, and, hitherto, no Conservative candidate will be in nomination against the benches of Mr. Bourassa.

BROTHER MASON TO DEATH

Prisoner Convicted of Murder Vehemently Protests His Innocence, and Appeals to Judge by Masonic Sign—Judge Weeps in Passing Sentence.

London, Mar. 14—Judge Knuckell, who is a prominent Free Mason, had the painful duty yesterday of sentencing to death a man who had been convicted of murdering Eliza Harrow, an elderly prostitute. The prisoner, Frederick Henry Seddon, 40 years old, an insurance superintendent, who, after nine days' trial in London, was found guilty of murdering Eliza Harrow, an elderly prostitute, was sentenced to death. SAVED FROM THE SURGEON'S KNIFE

"Fruit-a-lives" saved Appendicitis

Newsperson, Oct. 10, 1910. "Just about a year ago, our daughter Ella, in the eighth year of her age, was taken with terrible pains in the right side. We at once put her under the care of a first-class doctor, who pronounced it a case of appendicitis and advised an operation. We took her to a hospital in Kingston where she was again immediately examined by an eminent specialist. He said she had appendicitis and must be operated on. At this point, I was told to save her life.

You Can Thank Advertising

NEXT time you step into the corner store, take a look around. Of all the articles on the shelves, how many were on your shopping list five years ago? Make it ten years, and you will find that most of the things you buy to-day—and could not do without—were not even made then.

You men and women who buy things, let this sink in. You get better men and women because of advertising. You eat more wholesome food. You wear better clothes. Your home is better furnished. You have cleaner and more salubrious houses. You read better books and magazines. You seek more healthful amusements.

Your whole standard of living has been raised—and why? Because the men who make these better things are telling you that you will be more comfortable, happier and healthier if you use these higher grade goods.

It is advertising that makes it possible for you to buy "the best" right at your corner store. It is advertising that encourages the inventor to make new comforts and new utilities and enables you to buy them almost immediately after they are perfected.

J. J. Hill says this "high living" costs more. True for J. J.—but it is worth more. And leaving the cost aside, do you want to go back to buying jam out of a pail, oatmeal out of a barrel, raisins out of sticky boxes, or tea exposed in an open chest?

Do you regret the money you paid for a Player Piano?

Would you forego the new style razor?

Isn't a Tungsten worth a thousand candles?

Would you now be enjoying these if enterprising manufacturers had not told you about them in their advertisements?

Isn't life brighter because we have new and higher standards of living?

Let us thank advertising for it.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write if interested.

No Particular Trouble to Make It Says J. B. Tyrrell—Experience and Not Necessity—It Is N. W. M. P. Got Orders to Do It They Would Easily Make It

Toronto, Mar. 14—Any good dog driver in the Northwest, or up on Hudson's Bay, could have made the trip from the ship to the South pole without any particular trouble, said Mr. J. B. Tyrrell, Canadian mining engineer and a newspaper man today. Mr. Tyrrell has had considerable experience in such travel himself, being an authority upon the barren lands and the sub-arctic of Canada. "All that was needed to find the South pole," said Mr. Tyrrell, "was proper knowledge and proper equipment. Amundsen was to the man's born. I don't want to detract from his performance at all. He made use of the best Arctic trips when he was a man, must know how. He must know how to start and go on in the morning, being governed by the conditions at the time and place. He must know how to economize energy. The man that wastes energy plays out. The old gets to him." Mr. Tyrrell instilled the early hardships of the French discoverers of the country.

"The people on the River St. Lawrence live the life in comfort today," said Mr. Tyrrell. "Yet Jacques Cartier's men died of starvation. You might say that was because there was no vegetables or fruit or fresh provision the day they got to him."

WHERE IS NEW POULTRY FARM TO BE LOCATED

Present Acquisition at the Old Hudson's Bay Co. Farm, Which has been put in interest in many to be located.

Present Acquisition at the Old Hudson's Bay Co. Farm, Which has been put in interest in many to be located. The farm has been situated on the present site in the Hudson's Bay Reserve during the past four years and has become a very popular institution with people of Edmonton and the surrounding country. On Sunday days and holidays the farm is the resort of large numbers of people who take an interest in observing the life and enjoying the comparatively rural surroundings of the reserve.

Hatching Time. The present time is the most interesting as well as the busiest time of the year for poultry breeders, and at the poultry farm there is much to interest the lover of the useful domestic fowl. For the present season's hatching operations there are a dozen large steel incubators at work, and the first lot of chicks were hatched a day or two ago. Some 1250 chicks will probably be reared on the farm. The stock on the farm numbers about 420 head, divided in the following: White Leghorns, Columbian Wyandottes, Partridge Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds, Buff Orpingtons and White and Barred Rocks.

Popular Varieties. The Leghorns are the only Mediterranean breed kept, the popular demand being almost entirely for the heavier Ancon breeds. This is no doubt due largely to the fact that the winter care of the Mediterranean varieties is a more difficult problem than the care of the small-bodied and heavier feathered ones. Another chief reason, no doubt, is the desirability of the heavier breeds for table purposes. The records of last season's operations show that the most popular fowl by a long way was the Barred Rock, the eggs of this breed sent out by the farm numbering 2,753. The White Wyandottes came next with a demand of 1,846 and the Buff Orpington third with 1,422 eggs sold. The other breeds came in the following order: White Rocks, Silver Wyandottes and Rhode Island Reds. The last two breeds have been dropped owing to the fact that the limited space available at the farm makes it necessary that only those breeds for which there is a real demand can be kept.

Future Location. The poultry farm will have to be removed from its present location in a few weeks time and it has not yet been decided where it will go to.

There appears to be a possibility of the farm being removed from the district altogether. The proposal has been made that the farm should be run in connection with one of the various educational institutions, perhaps at the demonstration farm at Olds. While it is only natural that other districts should want the farm in their locality, there is a strong feeling that the poultry farm at Olds is the only institution of its kind in the province, and several important reasons for this. The first and most important is that the farm is the only one of its kind in the northern portion of the province in showing most interest in poultry raising and that Edmonton is the natural centre for a large distributing agency. From Edmonton the stock sent out by the farm can be shipped by three transcontinental lines to several points of the compass. The removal of the farm would be a serious loss to the district of which Edmonton is the centre.

A Good Advertisement. The professional poultry men represented by the Poultry Association have discussed the situation, but they decided to take no action in the matter. As a matter of fact, the government farm supplies birds and eggs to the public at a considerably cheaper rate than can the breeders who make their living by the production of their fowls. As far as possible, the Department of Agriculture tries to make the farm self-supporting, but the main idea is to get the farmers and other poultry keepers to go in for purebred stock. While in a way, the farm competes with the professional breeders, it is not so very competitive. The poultry farm cannot even begin to meet the demand for eggs and birds, and orders for many thousands of eggs are turned over to the breeders every season. In one month last year the farm had orders for 10,000 eggs, which it could not meet, and which would very likely have to be supplied by the professional men. No doubt the presence of the farm acts as an advertisement for the poultry industry of the province as a whole.

Exhibition Grounds Offer. Some time ago, when the impending removal of the farm was known to the members of the Edmonton Exhibition Association, the association made the department of Agriculture aware of the fact that the future location of the farm had not been settled. That is the position at the present time. There is little doubt that the Exhibition Association would very much like to see the farm located on the grounds of the exhibition, which would be very desirable apart from the fact that the farm would be retained for the city. It would add considerably to the attractions of the City Park, which addition, and possibly, as has been suggested, a zoological collection might be added in course of time as part of the city park scheme.

Three Possible Sites. Seen by a Bulletin reporter today, the Hon. Duncan Marshall and there were three places in mind for the future location of the poultry farm. One of these was at Edmonton and the other two were at the demonstration farm at Olds. Even if the farm had not existed it would have been necessary to move the farm this year to fresh ground, and it was the intention, if possible, to secure a site where the birds could be given a change of run as more frequent intervals.

SENSATIONAL ARREST OF MOTOR BANDITS

How Paris Detectives Successfully Worked a Theory, Capturing Daring Band of Up-to-Date Robbers Who Had Taken $10,000.

Paris, Mar. 15.—Two arrests have been effected in connection with the series of crimes committed by a gang of motor bandits. The police have recovered $10,000 worth of securities stolen by the gang from the bank messenger's daily when they dangerously wounded and robbed, in the Rue Trudaine, in this city, afterward making off in a motor car. The detectives believed that the securities would be placed for safe keeping in a cloak room at one of the Paris theatres, and ever since March 2nd, had watched the great criminals. Last Sunday morning their efforts were rewarded, two men appeared at the Gare Du Nord and handed in at the cloak room a large package which the detectives ascertained contained the stolen securities. All day Sunday detectives followed the two men who call themselves Brault and Lecocq. On March 15th they walked into a trap. He returned to the cloak room at the Gare Du Nord, where an inspector and detectives, disguised as porters, were waiting. A cloak room official pretended that he could not find the package and requested Brault to pick it up himself, the instant he bent behind the barrier the detective flew at him and pinned the hands behind his back while another clapped handcuffs on his wrists.

It is the company going to do? The answer is, "Nothing, until the government makes its official report."

SLAP! SLAP! SLAP!

With Apologies to old Seth Bullock, Indian fighter, guide, scout and dead shot, who on hearing ex-President Roosevelt make one of his explosive speeches remarked, "He talks like a Winchester, Slap! C. P. R. Will Spend Over Half a Million on Coquitlam Improvements During Summer

START MADE ON DOUBLE TRACKING AT HAMMOND

General Manager Bury Tells of Big Expenditures on Company's Western Lines

(World, Feb. 14, 1912.)

Has completely worked out the plan for the double tracking of the Canadian Pacific Railway during the coming season and summer, according to an announcement made today by Mr. George J. Bury, vice-president and general manager of the C. P. R., who is in the city on an inspection tour of the line.

The expenditure that is to be made this year alone in Coquitlam in the installation and operation of one unit of the company's terminal plant will amount to over $500,000. But that is only a start. Mr. Bury declares that within five years the company will have built up a terminal plant in Coquitlam which will be sufficient to handle the increase of traffic demand. The first unit of this plant, which is to be completed about 15 miles of track, will include a round house, shops, paint shop, machine shop, temporary bunkhouse for the men, coal bunkers and such other minor buildings and equipment as are necessary for the maintenance of terminal facilities on such a large scale.

Eventually there will be four or five units and about 35 miles of track at the company's Coquitlam terminal. That it has all been designed on the spot, and the units will be added as the terminal facilities increased as the growth of commerce and traffic warranted it. Mr. Bury anticipated the fact that in establishing these terminal facilities at Coquitlam the company was planning not only for wonderful growth and demands of the future, but also for the fact that the company's terminal facilities at Coquitlam will be sufficient to handle the increase of traffic demand.

Action brought by J. J. Denman to Test the Validity of Aul, Clarke to Sit in City Council is Proceeding Before Mr. Justice Simmons.

Proceedings instituted in the Supreme court about a week ago to test the validity of the election of Ald. Joseph A. Clarke were to have come on for hearing before Justice Simmons at ten o'clock yesterday, but it was found necessary to continue the case until later in the day. Solicitor Robertson, of counsel against the appointment of the action, and Solicitor Mackie, who, with his law partner, Mr. C. E. Mackie, represent Ald. Clarke, were appearing in a civil case scheduled to commence the entire forenoon and were therefore unable to take up the other matter.

But an hour later Solicitor Robertson appeared before Chief Justice Harvie in chambers and asked that the Clarke case go over until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Dickson, who is interested with Mr. Robertson in the prosecution of the action, said that he was understanding among counsel, and Chief Justice Harvie fixed the hour for hearing in view with their

This is Opinion Which City Official Says is Prevalent—Suits to Recover Damages Are Instituted on all Kinds of Events.

The impression has not abated that the city is an easy mark and we are likely to have damage suits instituted on all kinds of events, for these suits are the only ones that will be reasonable.

This is the opinion of Dr. Williams, the medical officer of health for the city, to which he gave expression in a letter to the commissioners yesterday.

Correspondence was read at the meeting with regard to the claim of Mrs. A. A. Thibault, of 1134 Clark street, for compensation for an accident which she alleged was due to the negligence of the employees of the street railway department.

The accident occurred on Feb. 1st, Mrs. Thibault being thrown down while standing on the rear of a car waiting the opportunity to alight.

The city solicitor stated that according to the statement of the conductor he told Mrs. Thibault to alight or hang on to the rear of the car, and she neglected to do so. This action on the part of the lady was, he concluded, contributory negligence on her part.

Widening City Street. The city commissioners at their meeting yesterday resolved to recommend the city council to purchase a 33 foot lot at the corner of Government avenue and Edmonton street for the purpose of widening the last-named street. The offer was made to the commissioners by the owner of the lot, who asked the sum of $1,500 cash.

Commissioner Candy said he thought the price asked for the corner lot was reasonable and it was very desirable that the street should be widened.

The offer remains open till the 1st of May.

Factory for West Delton. A new planing mill and wood working factory will probably be built this spring on lots 21, 22 and 23 West Delton.

A letter was read at the meeting of the city commissioners yesterday from the promoter, E. S. Bach, who stated that he was prepared to build the mill and factory if the city would extend the water mains to the proposed site. Mr. Bach added that on receiving this assurance he will begin operations as soon as the thinking out of the ground will permit.

The question of the extension of the mains was referred to the appropriate

Bank Act Next Session. Ottawa, Mar. 11.—Early next week, Hon. W. T. White will bring down to the House legislation for the extension of bank charters for a period of one year. It was felt by the government that the introduction of the

CITY MAN DIED FROM GASSING WHILE ASLEEP

Armed Edmonton Man, Transient Alien, Was Found Unconscious on Bed in Chicago Hotel and Dies From Gas Poisoning.

Chicago, Ill., Mar. 12.—Transient Alien, 35 years old, of Edmonton, Alberta, who was overcome by gas in the St. Nicholas Hotel, died last night. He was found in the room at the hotel late Thursday night and left word that he should be awakened early next morning. When he failed to respond to the repeated calls, the door was broken in and he was found lying unconscious on the bed. The gas jet connected with the gas heater had been turned on. The police believe that Allen did not know how to operate the stove.

He was a retired farmer, residing with his son, A. Allen, north of the city in the suburban district.

WAR NEGOTIATIONS

Miners and Mine Owners Have Failed to Reach a Basis of Settlement.

BLACK DESPAIR HAS SETTLED OVER COUNTRY

Four Million of Unemployed Are Feeling the Pinch—Situation is Serious.

London, Mar. 15.—Another deadlock has been reached in the negotiations for the settlement of the coal strike that is paralyzing industry throughout the United Kingdom, but Premier Churchill announced that he was bringing the parties together.

Representatives of the miners and mine owners were at the foreign office in the forenoon, but did not meet in conference. Premier Churchill consulted with the miners but at the luncheon hour nothing had been accomplished.

Sir Hugh Bell, a British military officer and from India, said at noon: "We are not getting on at all."

The unemployed, who number more than 4,000,000, are receiving daily assistance to their families. In many instances their families are without resources, while others are limited to the small amount of strike pay allotted for trades unions. "There can be no question that a feeling of discontent is growing among the miners."

From many districts come estimates of a growing desire of the miners to return to work, more particularly among the Lancashire, who are not receiving strike pay.

Further extensive restrictions of the railroad service were put in force today, and the London and Northwestern and Great Eastern railway companies are having their locomotives fitted for the use of oil. In some places along the line of the London and the Metropolitan was ordered to cut out 7,000 street lamps last night.

The shortage of coal is such that the military authorities have started to use fuel trees in November forest to provide fuel for the military camp at Harlow in Hampshire.

Despair Succeds Hope.

London, Mar. 15.—Another day of tension. The miners in the morning were disposed to contemplate with equanimity the changes in their wage schedules, but after nine hours' conference with the mine owners they settled down and in the House of Commons last night the atmosphere was almost of despair.

The conference yesterday was chiefly occupied in discussing the question of machinery for the adjustment of wages, and adjourned until today. The miners' agent said last night: "We lost all hope unless the government will act."

But when asked what the government could do he did not answer. "It is a great side," said one observer, "that it is being handled by little men. This does not apply to Asquith, whose mastery of the phases of the problem commands universal admiration. Personally, I anticipate a turn for the better tomorrow."

Neither side has offered as a British member of parliament said, last night to precipitate a social revolution over a first post question like this. Kier Hardie, labor member of parliament, anticipates government legislation on Tuesday. All this is but conjecture. The only certainty is that if no settlement is arrived at British will no longer be on the brink but over the brink of hell.

UNIFORM CHARGES FOR WATER AND LIGHTING

City Solicitor Says There Can Be No Discrimination Under the Terms of Amalgamation Act—Advocate of Residents on North Side Removes.

The question of differentiation in the amount of water rate paid in certain districts supplied by the city has for some time been causing discussion, but in future it appears that all will be placed on the same footing. Citizens residing along the Packer Plant main have been charged the ordinary rate plus 50 percent.

Mr. Hayworth, who resides along the line, wrote to the superintendent of the waterworks and asked to be charged simply the ordinary rate and the superintendent in turn asked for the ruling of the commissioners in the matter.

The question was referred to City Solicitor James, who reported as follows: "The amalgamation act provides that water and light rates, etc., shall be uniform throughout the whole city. Outside of this there would be no right to discriminate against consumers of the same class, even if it were not in the act."

AT SASKATOON

Tennessean While Drunk Fires on Inmates of Boarding House.

POLICE RISK VOLLEY TO EFFECT CAPTURE

Incident Last Night Which Savors Of the Wildest West Episodes.

Saskatoon, Mar. 15.—A shooting which savors of the wildest west episodes, occurred last night in the west side, when H. Burton, an American, who built from Tennessee, emptied the contents of a rifle and revolver at occupants of Jackson's boarding house, on Avenue B, and then retired to his room, threatening to kill any person disturbing him.

The police were notified and Sgt. McCreary and Constable Mills hurried to the scene. Burton had turned out the light in his room, and it was impossible for them to see what he was doing. There was a light burning in the hall past the door of Burton's room, and as they tried to get to this light or to enter the room without exposure to a possible volley from the Tennessean. The constables, however, decided to rush the man. Taking the risk of being shot down they dashed into the room, finding Burton, unarmed. He was lying on the bed half overcome by the effects of the liquor he had been consuming, but had a fully loaded Winchester across his legs.

Constable Higgins seized Burton and the sergeant after securing the gun, threw in the strenuous fight within reach. Burton was finally handcuffed and taken to the station. In addition to the Winchester repeater, which was a thirty-eight calibre, a revolver was found to Burton's side, and under his pillow was a box of cartridges, from which several shells had been removed. A bottle of whiskey was also found on his person. Burton is an employe at the city power house where he worked as a fireman. He was drinking last night and his roommate, a tailor named Whately, on the west side, stated that when he went into the room about midnight, Burton pointed the revolver at him with a command to turn out the light and before this could be accomplished Burton fired, putting a bullet through the tailor's hat.

many stock attributed to the probable sale of skins in Edmonton, the favored condition of the fur market and the power under the new charter for the borrowing of money to promote a more active stock policy at Calgary and at other western points.

The fur sales began Monday, when 275,000 muskrat skins will be offered for sale compared with 11,212 last year and 4,768 the year before. Prices are expected to show recovery from the

Will Not be Taken Alive.

Hillsville, Va., Mar. 14.—Little of a headway has been made early today towards the capture of the assassin, who was shot up by the Carroll County sheriff's posse, killing Judge Mendenhall, on their trail.

Commonwealth Attorney Foster and Sheriff Lew Webb. It was reported here that the Allen brothers and their followers had crossed the North Carolina line to Mount Airy, where they are said to have raided a hardware store and obtained a new supply of arms and ammunition. There is little thought that the outlaws will be taken alive and it may be many days before a well directed force is Circuit Court, killing Judge Mendenhall, on their trail.

ENGLISH JUDGE SENTENCES BROTHER MASON TO DEATH

Prisoner Convicted of Murder Vehemently Protests His Innocence, and Appeals to Judge by Masonic Sign—Judge Weeps in Passing Sentence.

London, Mar. 14.—Judge Bucknill, who is a prominent Free Mason, had the painful duty yesterday of passing sentence of death on a brother Mason, Frederick Henry Seddon, 47 years old, an insurance superintendent, who, after nine days' trial in London, was found guilty of murdering his wife, after an elderly sister, Seddon's wife was accused of the crime, but was acquitted. Miss Harrow lodged with the Seddons, and the prosecution charged that they obtained her with arsenic extracts from the paper in order to obtain her money.

Seddon, in a speech of twenty minutes, vehemently proclaimed his innocence, declaring: "Before the Architect of the Universe, I am not guilty."

You Can Thank Advertising

NEXT time you step into the corner store, take a look around. Of all the articles on the shelves, how many were on your shopping list five years ago? Make it ten years, and you will find that most of the things you buy to-day—and could not do without—were not even made then.

You men and women who buy things, let this sink in. You are better men and women because of advertising. You eat more wholesome food. You wear better clothes. Your home is better furnished. You have cleaner and more sanitary houses. You read better books and magazines. You seek more healthful amusements.

For your whole standard of living has been raised—and why? Because the men who make these better things are telling you that you will be more comfortable, happier and healthier if you use these higher grade goods.

If it is advertising that makes it possible for you to buy "the best" right at your corner store. It is advertising that encourages the inventor to make new comforts and new utilities and enables you to buy them almost immediately after they are perfected.

J. J. Hill says this "high living" cost more. True for J. J.—but it is worth more. And leaving the cost aside, do you want to go back to buying jam out of a pail, oatmeal out of a barrel, rains out of sticky clothes, or tea exposed in an open chest?

Do you regret the money you paid for a Player Piano?

Would you forego the new style razor?

Isn't a Tungsten worth a thousand candles?

Would you now be enjoying these if enterprising manufacturers had not told you about them in their advertisements?

Isn't life brighter because we have new and higher standards of living?

Let us thank advertising for it.

Advice regarding your advertising problem is available through any good advertising agency or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lansdowne Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write if interested.

The reason for the offer is explained as follows: "We are indebted to the council for appreciation of our work in general and we cannot let the opportunity pass without showing our indebtedness in a practical way."

ASSISTING IMMIGRANTS.

At most-monthly meeting Thursday night, of the advisory board of the Imperial Home Reunion Association, a favorable action was taken on eight applications for assistance in bringing families from Great Britain to join the heads of families who have settled in the Edmonton district. This means that 21 persons, of whom 12 are wage-earners, will leave England, Scotland and Wales as soon as the money reaches there with which to pay the cost of their trip to this city. The Home Reunion Association, in the comparatively short time since it was formed, has been instrumental in bringing quite a number of families over from the old country. Without exception the new comers promise to make desirable Canadian citizens. Such has proved to be the case with the heads of families who have made application for aid from the association.

No Particular Trouble to Make It Says J. B. Tyrrell—Experience and Guts Necessary—If R. N. W. M. P. Go to Do It They Would Really Make It

Toronto, Mar. 14.—"Any good dog driver in the Northwest, or up on Hudson Bay, could have made the trip from the ship to the South pole without any particular trouble," said Mr. J. B. Tyrrell, Canadian mining engineer to a newspaper man today. Mr. Tyrrell has had considerable experience in such travel himself, being an authority upon the barren lands and the Arctic regions of Canada.

"All that was needed to find the North pole," said Mr. Tyrrell, "was proper knowledge and proper equipment. Amundsen was to the mark. I don't want to detract from his performance at all. He made a very good Arctic trip when he accomplished the North-West passage. All his early training since he was a boy has fitted him for travelling under Arctic conditions. He could do easily what a man without his experience would do at the price of terrific hardship."

Experience Essential. "It is just the same as if a tenderfoot went north without any experi-

"Fruit-tives" cured Appendicitis

Newmarket, Ont., Feb. 18th, 1912. "Just about a year ago, our daughter (this fourteen years) was taken with appendicitis in the right side. We at once put her under the care of a local doctor, who pronounced it a case of Appendicitis and advised an operation. We took her to a Hospital in Kingston where she was again immediately examined by an eminent specialist. He said she had Appendicitis and must be operated on at once, if we wanted to save her life."

"Lackly for we went for her, an uncle came in with some 'Fruit-tives' and talked on his case. We tried the results were apparent almost from the first dose, and the treatment cured her. 'Fruit-tives' saved our daughter from the surgeon's knife and to-day she is enjoying the best of health."

ence and tried to travel through New Brunswick. He would suffer and probably perish. But the surgeons work up there in the winter, and the trepanners don't know they are undertaking any hardships. It simply means that a man must know how. He must know how to start out properly in the morning, being covered by the conditions at the time and place. He must know how to economize energy. The man that wastes energy plays out. The cold sets to him."

Mr. Tyrrell instigated the early hardships of the French discovery of the North pole.

"The people of the River St. Lawrence live there in comfort today," said Mr. Tyrrell. "Yet Jacques Cartier's men died of starvation. You may say that was because there was no vegetable or fruit or fresh provisions in the country, but let us go up to Hudson Bay port they don't have fresh provisions nor do they have sugar."

Mounted Police Could Make Pole. "They know how to live in Arctic conditions," said Mr. Tyrrell. "I have no hesitation in saying that our own Northwest Mounted police could have sent a detachment to the South pole if they had been so instructed."

Mr. Tyrrell repeated a story told at the Mining Institute, the other day. A N. W. M. P. was asked how far north he had been. Heretofore Island was his limit.

"Why, haven't you been to the North pole?" quizzed his interrogator. "Never been nearer there yet," was the reply.

"The South pole has never been such an incentive to exploration as the North pole," continued Mr. Tyrrell. "With the North pole was associated the quest of the Northwest passage. There was no particular commercial motive for discovering the South pole. Sir John Ross explored the coast of the Antarctic continent in 1818. There have been a few expeditions down there. Shackleton made a good trip. He found large coal bearing areas down there. The discovery of the South pole was easy after the publication of Shackleton's trip. The expedition cost simply a little money and a few dogs. Any of our own dog drivers could have made the trip. The work needed the knowledge of travel under cold conditions such as we have in our own north and northwest."

Not Worth Quarrelling About. Mr. Tyrrell said that the Antarctic continent was so inaccessible that there was no reason for governments quarrelling about it. He asserted if any should be regulated by an international board something like the Hague.

MANY ENQUIRIES RECEIVED. While the Board of Trade has not done any outside advertising since November 1st last, Secretary Fletcher continues to receive many letters from all parts of the globe, inquiring about conditions in the Edmonton district, with special reference to the adaptability of the soil for agricultural purposes. Some dozen forty and fifty letters of this character are opened and answered, indicating that the wide publicity given to Central Alberta last summer and early fall is still having its effect.

The bulk of the inquiries come from Ontario, the Central States and Great Britain, although many letters direct their way from different countries in Europe and even from South America.

The single tax system, which has been in vogue ever since Edmonton became a city, is also the subject of numerous inquiries. The writers of such letters want to know how the system works out, etc.
